PREFACE

The free-floating subdivisions used in Library of Congress subject headings appear in thirty-five separate lists in the Subject Cataloging Manual: Subject Headings. This index, compiled by the Cataloging Policy and Support Office, is a consolidated alphabetical listing of all free-floating subdivisions in the manual as well as newly-approved free-floating subdivisions not yet published in the manual. The first edition of the index was published in 1989. Subsequent editions have been published annually. This tenth edition includes subdivisions approved through December 1997.

This list should be used as an index to the manual by those who wish to assign and retrieve free-floating subdivisions.

INTRODUCTION

This list consists of all free-floating subdivisions that appear in H 1095 - H 1200 in the current edition of the Subject Cataloging Manual: Subject Headings, and serves as an index to the free-floating subdivisions in that publication. This tenth edition of the list is up to date through December 1997.

For each subdivision, a listing is provided of the free-floating lists in the manual where it appears, identified by category. Since the subdivisions that appear in H 1095 have no single, identifiable category, the user is directed, by the notation "see SCM:SH,"to consult H 1095 in the Subject Cataloging Manual to determine appropriate usage. For subdivisions that have specific instruction sheets in the manual describing their usage, citations to these are provided in the column labeled "USAGE GUIDELINES IN SCM:SH." Subdivisions that normally function as form subdivisions are identified by a diamond (♦) in the margin.

This list should be used with caution and only in conjunction with the Subject Cataloging Manual. After locating a subdivision in the list, it is usually necessary, particularly for those subdivisions listed in H 1095, to consult the manual to determine restrictions on its usage in specific situations. These are found in footnotes or scope notes on the free-floating lists in the manual or in an instruction sheet that provides usage guidelines. Restrictions of this type are not indicated in this list.
